MESSAGE FROM THE SEO

Initially, I thought 3 Angels Nepal was just another NGO. But I realised it's far more than that—it's a life-changing, warm, and hospitable home. People enter with tears of despair, shattered dreams, and little to no hope. Yet, when they leave, those tears transform into tears of joy, hope, and the promise of a brighter future. I'm incredibly proud to be part of such an organisation. Since joining 3 Angels Nepal almost eight years ago as an Administrative Secretary, I've received countless blessings on this journey.

Witnessing the heart-wrenching situations of traumatised children and women first-hand was overwhelming at first. Yet, being part of the solution has given my life a profound sense of purpose and direction. This mission to serve the vulnerable has become the very essence of my existence, fuelling my passion, and guiding my every step.

Dr. Rajendra has become more than just my superior; he is a brother. His guidance has transcended the professional realm, profoundly impacting my personal development as well. When I joined 3 Angels Nepal, I had just completed my undergraduate degree from Spicer Adventist University. Thanks to 3 Angels Nepal's sponsorship, I was able to pursue a master's degree in human resources management. I take immense pride in identifying myself as a beneficiary of 3 Angels Nepal.

Throughout my journey, I have engaged in every program and project implemented by 3 Angels Nepal, wearing multiple hats and embracing various responsibilities. As a member of the administrative committee, I was given a platform to voice my opinions in the decision-making process. Additionally, I serve as an invitee member of 3 Angels Nepal's executive board, which has been a remarkable opportunity. I have had the privilege of managing donor correspondence and project reporting, contributing to the HR office, teaching college students at the 3 Angels Mission School, and serving as a board member of the 3 Angels Cooperative. Each role has allowed me to grow, learn, and make a tangible difference.

Today, I proudly hold the position of Senior Executive Officer at 3 Angels Nepal. This role embodies the trust and responsibility bestowed upon me, and it fuels my unwavering commitment to our mission. Every step of this journey has reinforced my dedication to serving the vulnerable and making a lasting impact on their lives.

Rescued women undergo life skills and vocational training, while rescued children find refuge in 3 Angels Children Homes. Our safe haven serves not only trafficked women but also individuals identified as acute cases. Complying fully with government standards, our facility is partnered with the provincial government. This year, 167 women successfully completed rehabilitation and returned safely to their communities of origin. Additionally, WSH now provides Certified Technical Education and Vocational Training (CTEVT) in hospitality, cooking, beautician skills, and fashion design to survivors.

3 AMS is the preventive initiative established in 2011 to increase awareness in the community through quality and competent education. The school also aims to generate local income to support financial needs. The school currently runs up to grade 12 and has 263 students where about 60% are fee-paying students.

EMPOWERING WOMEN AND CHILDREN RESCUED FROM TRAFFICKING

Going to School

The program provides comprehensive support to trafficking victims, especially to children and nursing mothers. Through safe shelter, education, and skills training, this program empowers survivors to rebuild their lives. Additionally, the program raises community awareness about mental health, women's rights and child protection to prevent future trafficking incidents.
